Important Information For Release Bearing Number N906 And N906SA

Before installing this release bearing, please read the following information closely.

AMS Automotive offers two similarly numbered, yet distinctively designed release bearings. Please refer to the illustration below to determine which item you require.

N906

Used primarily for industrial and agricultural applications.

N906SA

Used primarily for International Harvester (IHC) applications.

Note the raised lip on the N906SA. This raised lip is designed to allow grease to enter the bearing cage in IHC applications.
